

Self Advocates storm capitol hill

Self-advocates Doug Severe, Nina Wilson and Violet Snodgrass appeal to a legislative aide in the Senate office of Senator Karen Keiser.

Kim Wing right, met with Ed Holen, Developmental Disabilities state office, in Olympia on Advocacy Day.

Funding cutbacks

This may be the last DDD details. As of print time Clallam County funding for the newsletter is still uncertain.

While SNAP has also suffered cutbacks, SNAP is committed to being a source of information about what is happening in the developmental disabilities community.

On behalf of the staff of DDD details, Tracy, Ursula and I thank you for the opportunity to showcase how people with developmental disabilities are part of our larger community.

Check the SNAP webpage at www.snapcc.org for monthly updates of events. Bonne Smith

From left: Violet Snodgrass, Merry Winch, Nina Wilson and Doug Severe asked legislators during Advocacy Day to protect funding for people with developmental disabilities.